Cross-border structures

Given the expertise and experience of the JTC Kensington professionals in the area of cross-border structures, we are well placed to implement and support such structures with our range of services as detailed under Corporate Services.

OUR STRATEGIC ALLIANCE

We have always taken great care when choosing our strategic partners, so that we can be certain our core values are aligned.

This was very much the case with JTC and our formal association is built upon a founding charter principle that sets out five fundamental shared values of loyalty, honour, respect, transparency and integrity.

The charter's other specification is to foster a family environment universally across our combined business.

Our founding charter was established in 2013 to expand our global network and meet the demands of our international clients, particularly in Europe and the Americas. It has since been followed up with continued investment by JTC, leading to the creation of JTC Kensington.
